

Economic Empowerment: Building Self-Reliance

At Chaitanya Kala Bharathi, we believe that sustainable change occurs when need-based charity is combined with long-term economic empowerment. By providing the tools and training for financial independence, we help families break the cycle of poverty and build a secure future.

EMPOWERING FOREST-DEPENDENT COMMUNITIES

Our head office is situated amidst dense forest regions, home to tribal communities including the Chenchu, Sugali, and Koya. Historically dependent on forest produce, these families are now being supported through sustainable income-generation initiatives:

- Traditional Craftsmanship: We provide financial support for families to engage in specialized activities such as bamboo tatti making and basket weaving.
- Sustainable Livelihoods: These initiatives transform traditional skills into reliable sources of daily earning, ensuring a steady income while respecting cultural heritage.

COLLECTIVE PRODUCTIVITY & MARKETING

CKB promotes the power of unity through the formation of Self-Help Groups (SHGs). We empower these collectives by:

- Capacity Building: Providing technical training to enhance the quality and volume of their production.
- Financial Assistance: Offering the necessary capital to scale their collective enterprises.
- Market Linkages: Facilitating direct connections to markets to ensure their products receive a fair price, securing sustainable income for every member family.

ENTREPRENEURSHIP & SKILL DEVELOPMENT

Under our Social and Economic Empowerment sector, we foster a spirit of small-scale entrepreneurship:

- Vocational Training: Implementing programs for skills like tailoring, which allow women and youth to become self-employed.
- Micro-Enterprises: Assisting families in establishing petty shops and other small businesses to diversify their household income.
- Self-Employment: These interventions provide the dignity of self-reliance, allowing families to manage their own financial well-being with confidence.
